Dear Bill:

I appreciate very much your nice letter of June 7. I think you know that while we Americans often disagree on one policy or another, our objectives are the same. I just happen to consider it an outrage that more young blacks are not pursuing job opportunities in the CIA, and I shall continue to say so.

Warmest personal regards,

Carl

Dear Carl:

I wish to personally thank you on behalf of the Central Intelligence Agency for your assistance in advancing our minority recruitment effort. The fact that you shared with your vast radio audience our interest in increasing the Agency's minority professional population can only bring positive results.

I also wish to commend you for the outstanding manner in which you highlighted our observance of Black History month with a most thought-provoking speech. We, as an Agency, have benefited from your presence and feel a sense of pride in having had you share with us some of your many life experiences.

Your support for our recruiting is a big dividend
Yours,

Bill Casey
